

Ulrich's periodical directory and Ulrich's web are subscription based indexing service. So you have to have username/ password to search inside their database. Or you can use any major subscribing libraries. Usually libraries in well known universities have their subscription and access to Ulrich's periodical directory and Ulrich's web.

If you have username/password then you can use the following links to search for the journals:

<http://ulrichsweb.serialssolutions.com/login>

<http://www.ulrichsweb.com/ulrichsweb/analysis/default.asp?navPage=4&>

The following journals are indexed in Ulrich's:

- 1- International Journal of Sciences: Basic and Applied Research (IJSBAR).
- 2- American Scientific Research Journal for Engineering, Technology, and Sciences (ASRJETS).
- 3- international journal of computer (IJC).

